Instructor Information:

Charlotte Strickland was homeschooled by parents Rick and Debbie Moore and later took on a four year apprenticeship by Oklahoma Artist Dennis Parker. She has instructed art classes through a homeschool co-op as well as private art lessons to elementary through high school aged students. Teaching students to express themselves creatively through art is a fun and rewarding process that Charlotte has been passionate about for many years.

Grading will be based on student participation/effort and will be a pass or fail grade given at the end of the school year. Course information subject to change at any time.
